VIBRANT and alive!! Full of animation, exciting, overwhelming and bursting with new ideas . . . this is today's younger generation, the Pepsi generation . . . the unsilent generation. Standing up to be noticed and shouting to be heard. An extension of their personalities is displayed by their dress, speech, work, artistry, writings, and in every move. Grateful to be alive, and striving to be free . . . this is the unsilent generation . . . . . it can not be overlooked.

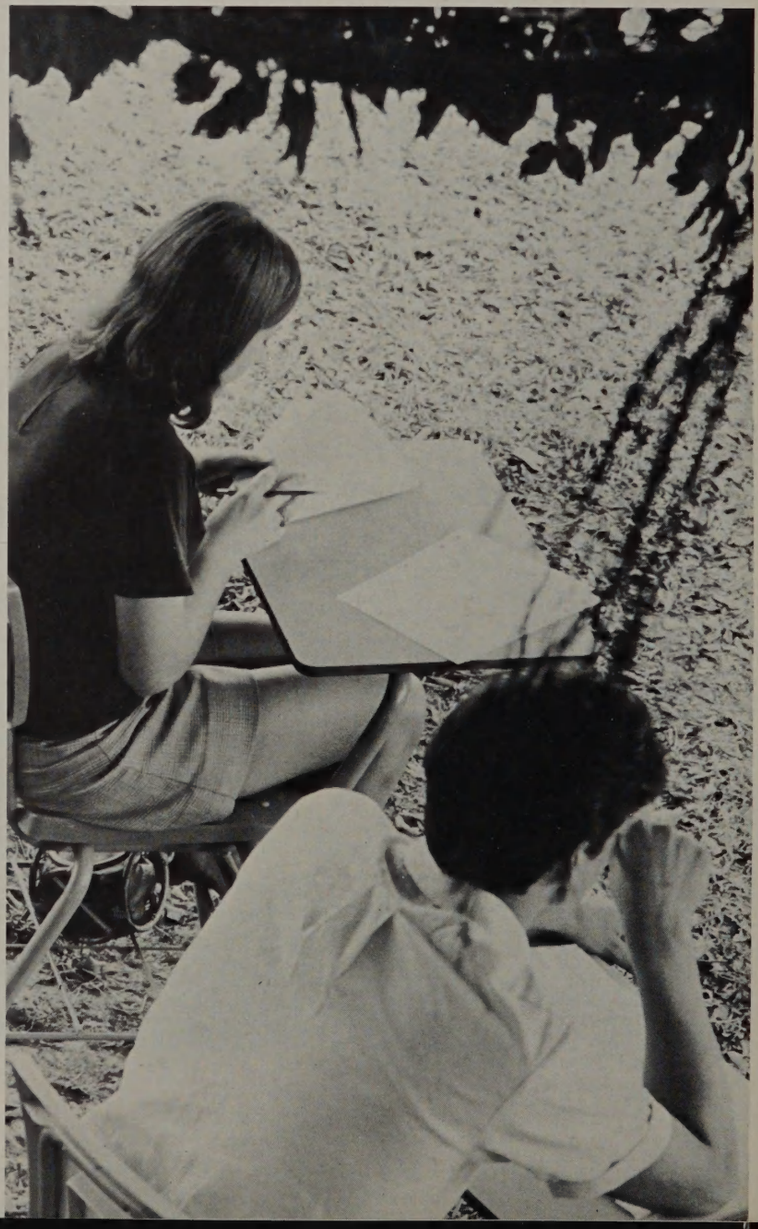

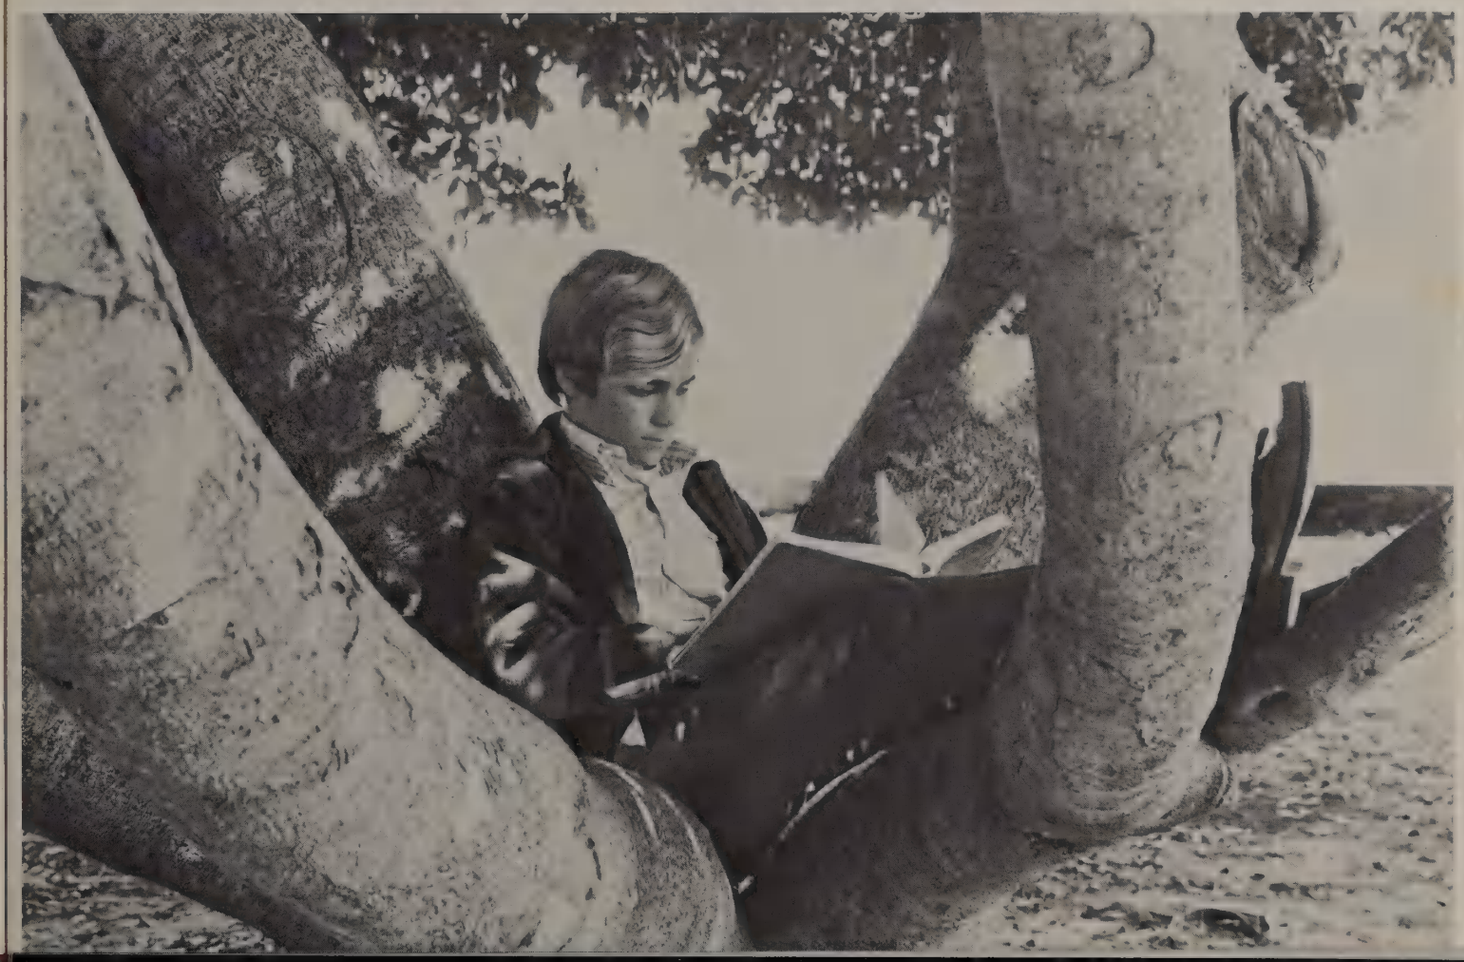

Down these open corridors and through these doors pass tomorrow's future. Look beyond the facade of long hair, mod dress, and different speech. Do you see a doctor, a lawyer, a scientist or a politician? Watch as tomorrow's leaders pass by.

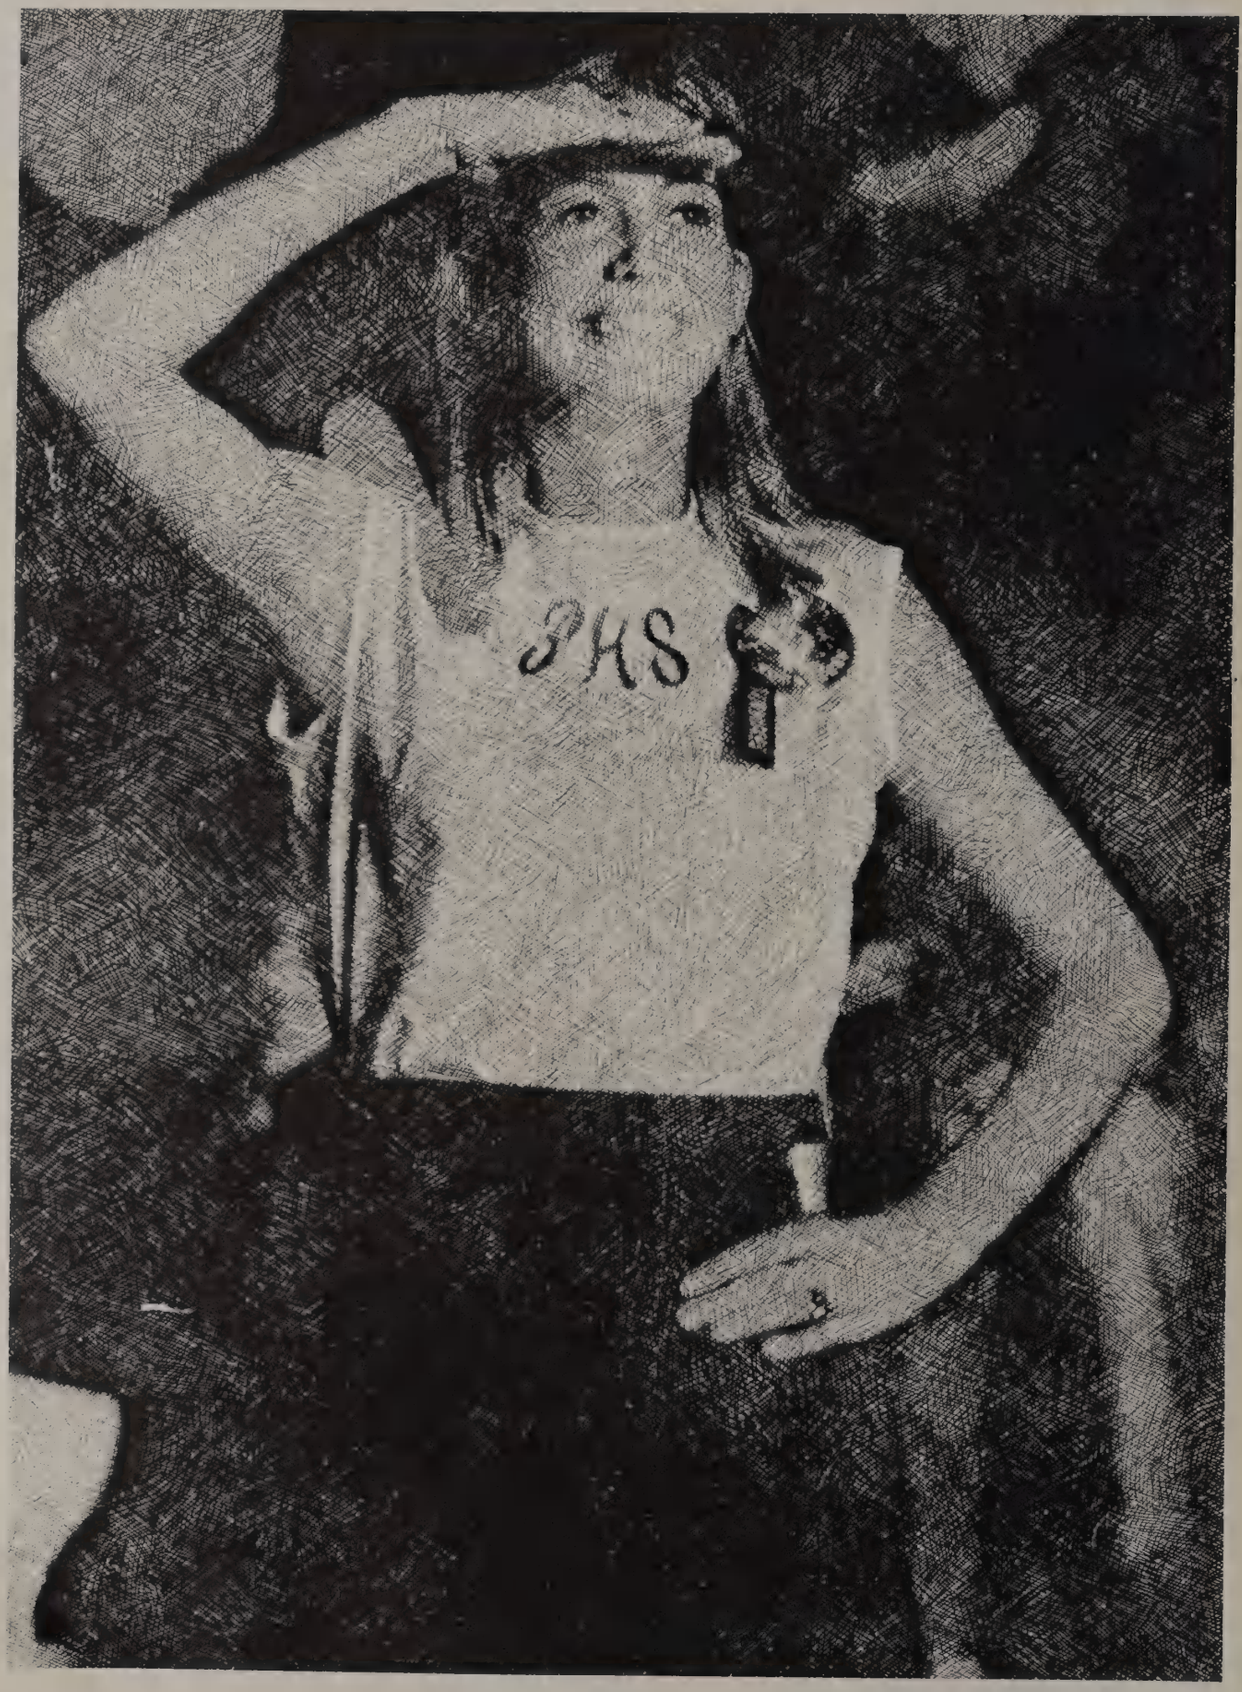

The creations of nature stand as if to say, "Look at us under the sky, living and free." But isn't mankind just as alive and just as free?

PHS

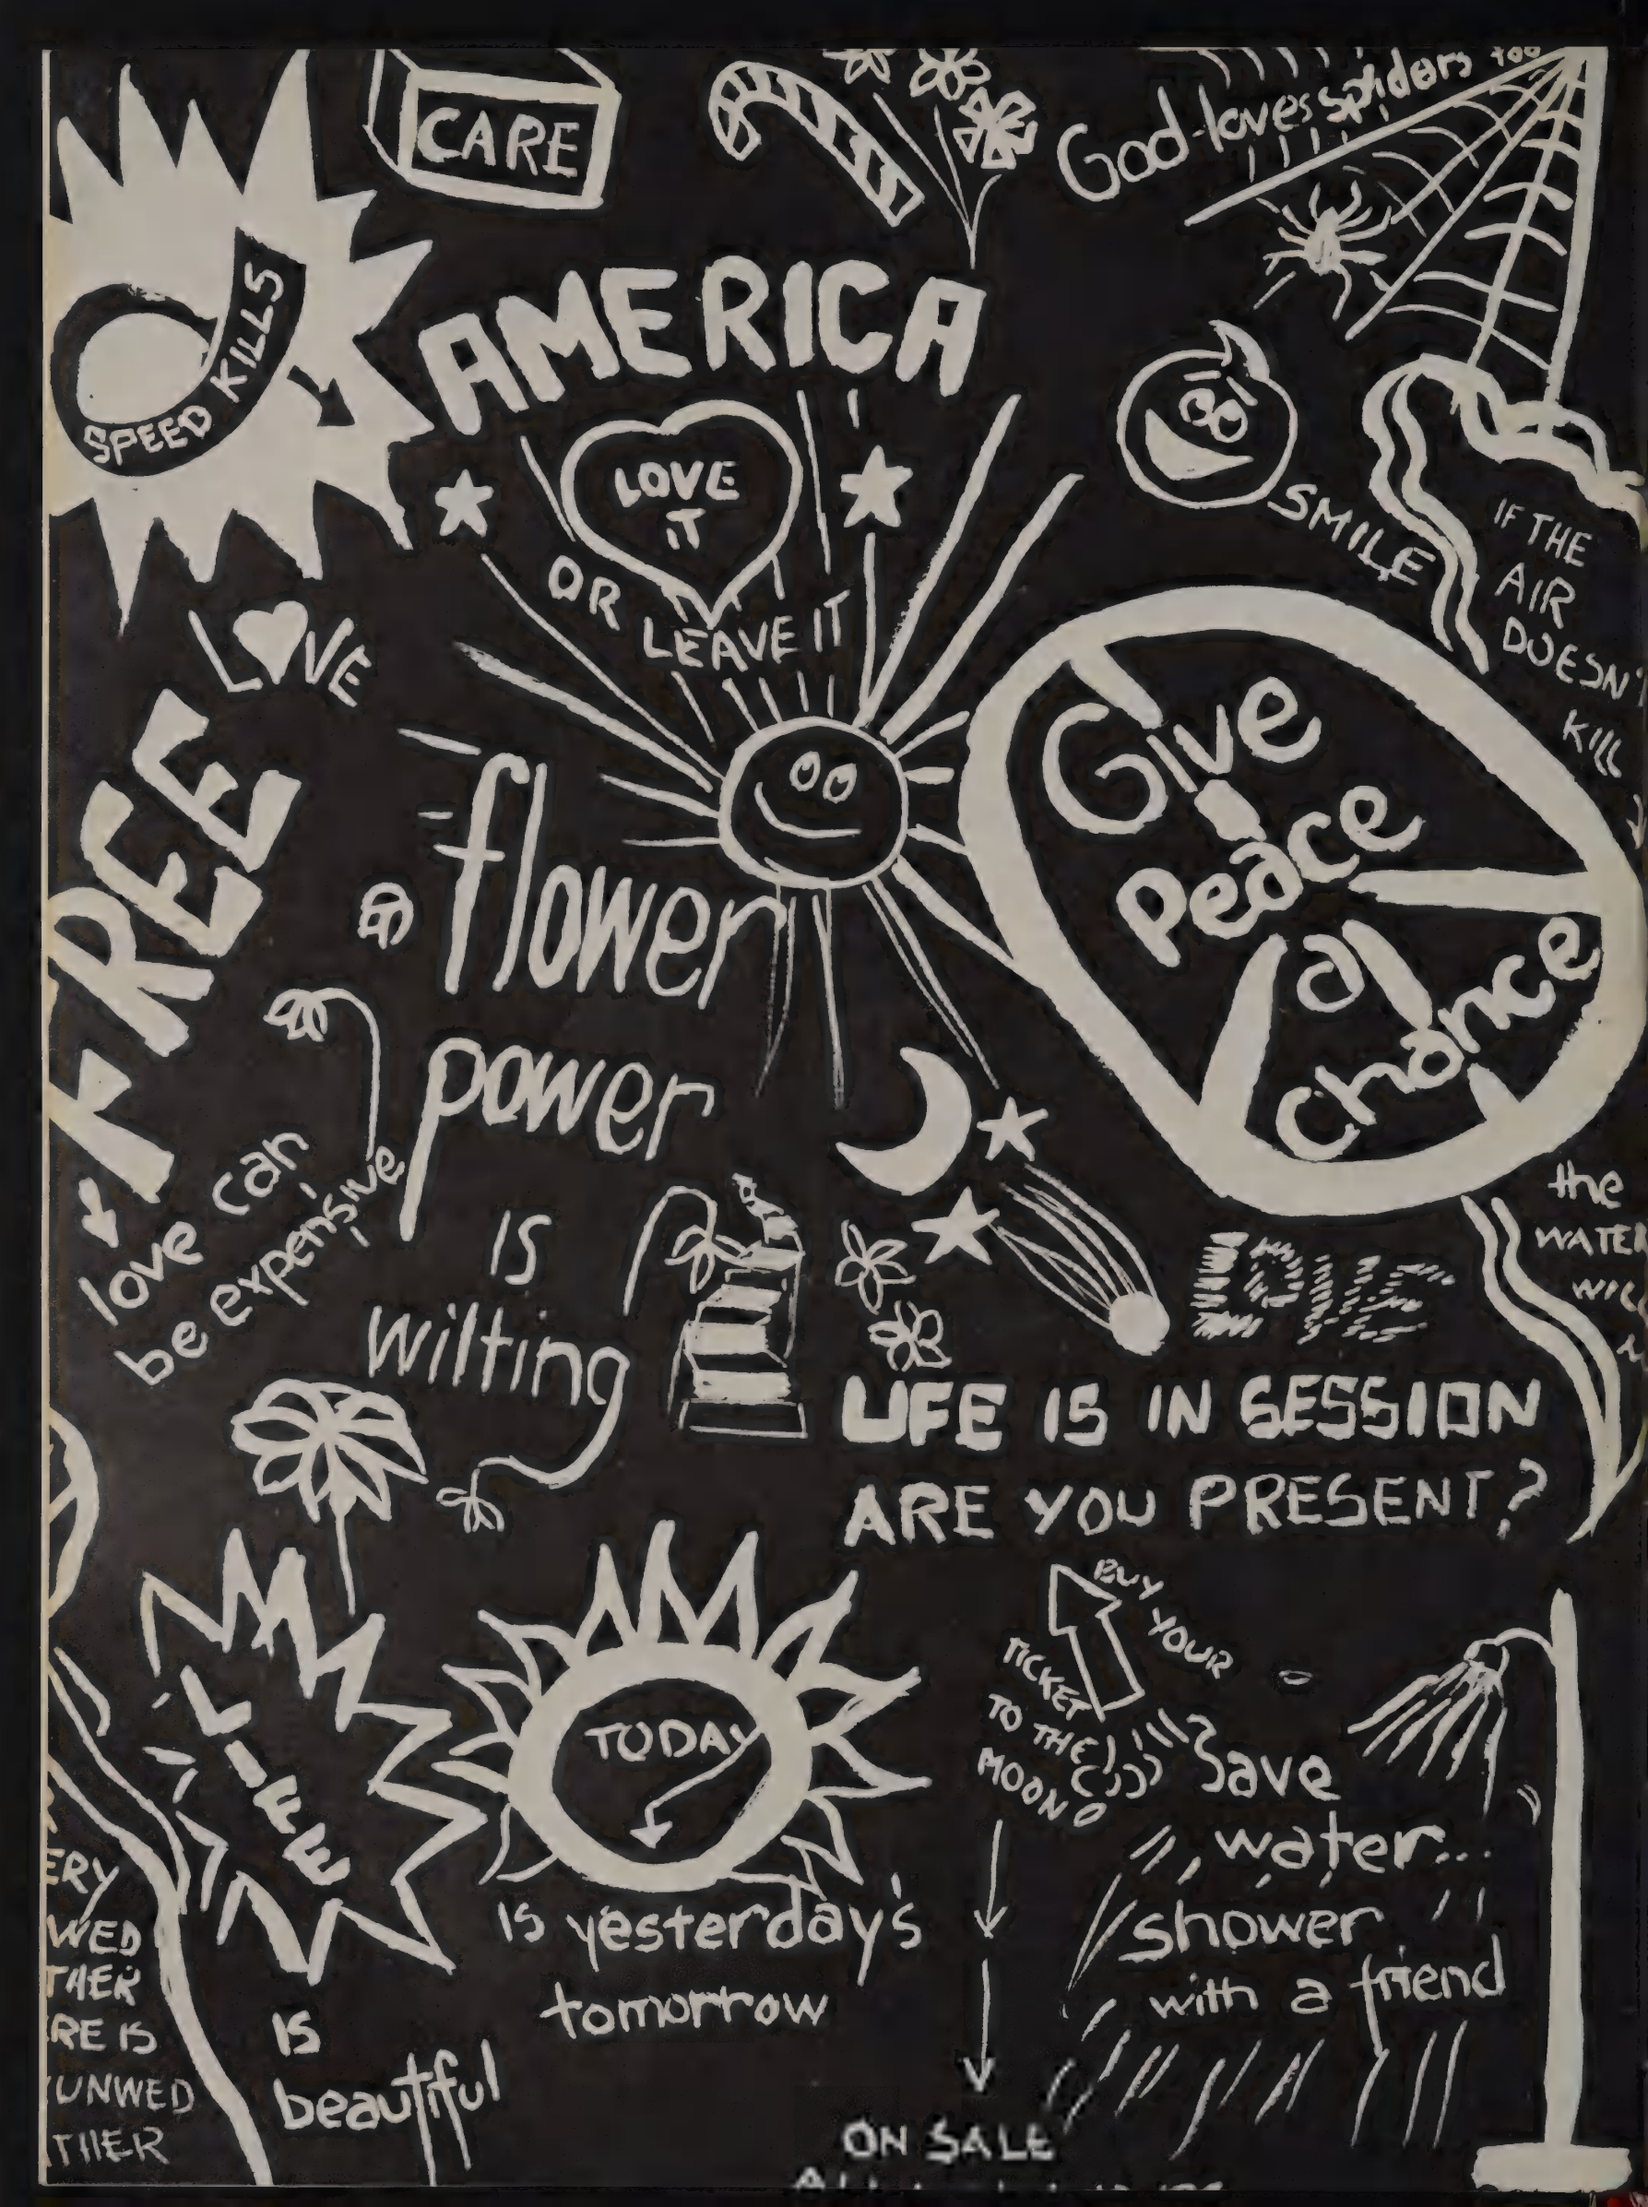

Expressing and conveying thoughts and feelings can be frustrating because words are often inadequate; however, today's generation does not fall prey to relying upon verbal communication alone. Hands, gestures, eyes, and expressions contribute to the synthesis of a total thought. Every action, written word, and stroke of a paint brush is an extension of the very real thoughts, dreams, and beliefs of this unsilent generation.

Each generation is reared and taught in a different world; it leaves its scars, its reforms, and its beauties. Today's generation will be remembered not for its blind obedience and passive acceptance, but for its eagerness to understand the complexities of life and to find the hidden path to unity and understanding among men.

Academics is the nucleus of our school. Faculty members not only teach us how to determine the energy contained in an atom, recite Cicero's orations, and how to sing, they teach us how to get along in their world, the adult world, that we enter when we go out on our own when we leave Pompano Beach Senior High.

Academics: Linda Pearce, Mike Harris and Andy Slatkow.

Assistance is given to those with problems. Our Guidance department at Pompano is a very necessary part of our school. It not only helps students in high school, but helps them prepare for college, and in getting jobs. Our guidance counselors often spend their Saturday mornings giving a test to help us get accepted into colleges of our choice. They also arrange college night.

Our library is a storehouse of literature. Many students make use of the library and its many books several times a day. It is often filled with students putting some extra time to use studying; often students find time to use our library for research during term-paper time, and many students make use of its facilities after school or at night.

Students find the peace and quiet of the library conducive to the study and research required by their teachers and classes.

International Club is crowded with members after club week's membership drive.

Various clubs vie for members. The life of a student who is trying to enter a club is very complicated. First, he must sign his name on an application form, then he must write a letter stating his qualifications for the club and finally, if accepted, he must endure the initiation ceremonies. This year about 700 students were accepted into clubs.

OUR TOWN stages life, love and death. The plot of the play centers around the people of Grover's Corners, New Hampshire. The Stage Manager narrates the story that centers around Emily Webb and George Gibbs and their families. "Daily Life" is the title of act one; the second act is about "Love and Marriage" and the third act depicts "Death." The action begins when Emily and George are teenagers and continues until Emily's farewell speech as she says goodbye to life.

Professor Willard gives report as Stage Manager listens.

The town drunk, Simon Stimson, conducts the choir.

Mrs. Webb is nostalgic at her daughter's wedding.

George promises to love and take care of Emily in a tender scene before they take their marriage vows.

Students activities develop responsibility. Clubs are a very important part of school life. They fill in the extra hours of a student's life by giving him a sense of responsibility and the ability to work with other people on projects. Some clubs also help to round out careers by helping students do more work in the field that interests him.

The new Junior and Senior Honor Society members were taken by surprise when they were inducted at an assembly.

Barbeque is big success again this year. Students who have attained a 3.6 average and satisfactory marks in citizenship are invited to join Honor Society. A student is also judged in leadership, character, and scholarship by his teachers before he can join. The Honor Society's traditional barbeque was a success again this year.

Club members voice career references. Future teachers, lawyers, doctors, preachers, farmers, entertainers, and others benefit by participation in club activities. Through such participation, members, speak to the school and community.

Competition promotes spirit and participation. Athletes acquire the spirit of competition through participation in sports. Sports teach young people many things: how to work as a team, and at the same time, how to be an individual. Athletes not only learn by winning, but also by the agony of defeat.

Cheerleaders energetically lead spirited fans. The school cheerleaders are mainly responsible for all the enthusiasm that is generated whenever a Tornado team takes the field or court. The cheerleaders arouse spirit in everyone by decorating the cafeteria and by sometimes climbing up the goalposts and decorating them. This year, with sponsor Miss Betty Myrick's permission, they decorated the locker room before the games.

Speedster Willy Austin eludes Northeast defenders.

Coach Dave Dutch looks across the field in a tense moment.

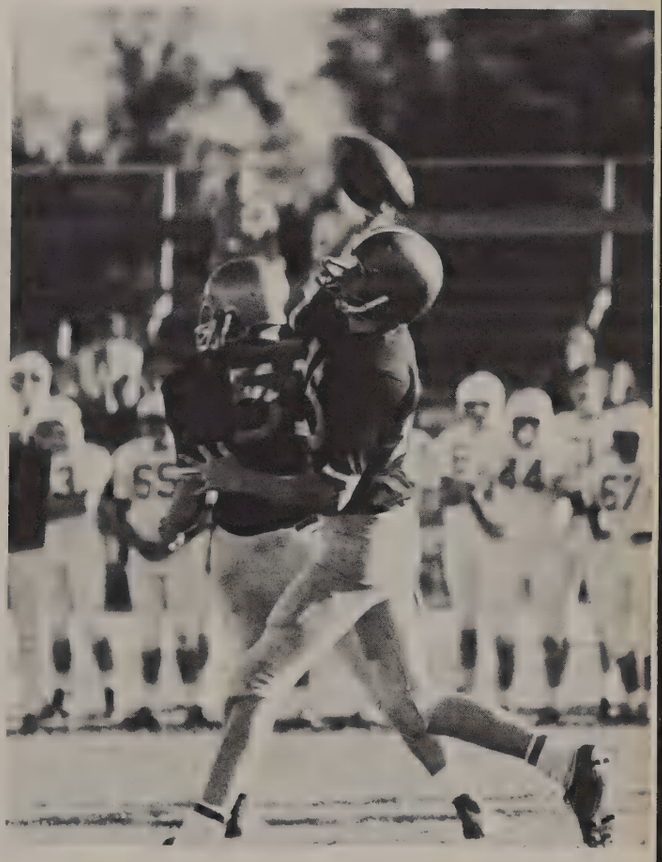

Head JV Coach, Rick Wager, seems to be quite concerned at action on field.

JV's enjoy a successful season. There was much interest in the baby Tornadoes this year. Pompano JV's racked up a respectable 3-4-1 record. Included was a big victory over the baby Flying L's. The team's achievement earned the enthusiastic support of the Sophomore class.

Fullback Frank Wood (captain) charges forward for big yardage.

Jeff Maddox about to unload a pass.

The Pompano Beach Cross Country team was well rounded, boasting three seniors, two juniors, and a promising sophomore runner. Team captain Bill Gill, a three year letter man, led his team to a fifth place finish in the region. The top two runners, though, were junior Frank Smith, and sophomore Joe Stitgen, finishing seventh and eighteenth in the regional meet respectively. For his efforts Frank Smith was chosen to all region team.

Team leader, Frank Smith, puts on a strong finish at a meet.

The Pompano Beach runners show good team spirit and a relaxed attitude as they prepare themselves for the two mile test.

Veteran Head Coach Billy Miller goes over the times with fatigued crew of harriers after a dual meet with the Flying L's.

Ed Rokos lays it up as Nova player tries in vain to stop him.

Larry Quinn goes up to assist Scott Mauger with a rebound.

New Coach Conley leads his cagers to victory. PBSHS won District from Stranahan 57-52. They lost in Regional by 55-57 to the top Carol City team. Early season polls did not consider Pompano as a strong contender for the county title but shortly into the season the Golden Tornadoes were ranked first in both the Sun Sentinel and Fort Lauderdale News polls. Coach Conley in his first year as head basketball coach demonstrated his coaching skills in making a contender out of a team lacking height and weakened by ineligibility. Pompano finished third in the Christmas Tournament defeating a strong Curley team in the consolation game. The boys on the team this year displayed the traditional fast running ball game style.

Guard Charley Childs controls the ball, preparing to set up, as he waits for the rest of the Tornadoes to arrive.

Unsilent Seniors take on the 70's. With every year that goes by, a new class becomes seniors as the old one leaves. Each class leaving its own special trademarks. This year, no different from the previous, seniors have left not only part of themselves but many of their memories—a class all our own.

Senior Class: Michelle Adams and Pat Avard

NIXO

Being a class officer has to be considered one of the most important jobs a student may take on during his three years of high school. Throughout the year several events take place that require decisions of the students themselves. For this reason, it is important that we have good leadership in helping to guide our decisions. The officers work together on not only the Prom and social activities, but also on events of a more serious nature such as Senior Work Day or Graduation. The job of an officer is to lead the class to the best of his ability.

Among his many activities Class President Mike Bailey shows pride in his school through participation on the football team.

Secretary Cathy Whitworth and Treasurer Debbie Loos began seeking a place to hold the Prom early in the year.

Vice President Peter Loganzo boosts school spirit by joining the cheerleaders in "Hey, hey, hey, ho, ho, ho".

Juniors strive for greater achievement. The graduating class of 1971 sponsored the Homecoming Dance, showing their responsibility and eagerness to join in school activities. The Juniors also produced the class play, "Our Town," which was presented November 6 and 7. The magazine drive was again a main event as Juniors put their best feet forward in an effort to top other classes. Juniors took great pride in ordering their rings last fall. Class officers elected in the spring look forward to shaping the school during their senior year. A year of maturity and experience has been gained as the class of '71 plans for their last year at good ole Pompano Beach Senior High.

Sandi Cassidy wastes no time in library study period.

Lucy Haverfiled laughs during a light discussion before bells signal the start of classes.

Brian Moore looks forlorn as he contemplates the opposing team's stratagey during a thrilling game.

A typical talkative girl, keeps a group of very impatient boys waiting as the minutes tick away.

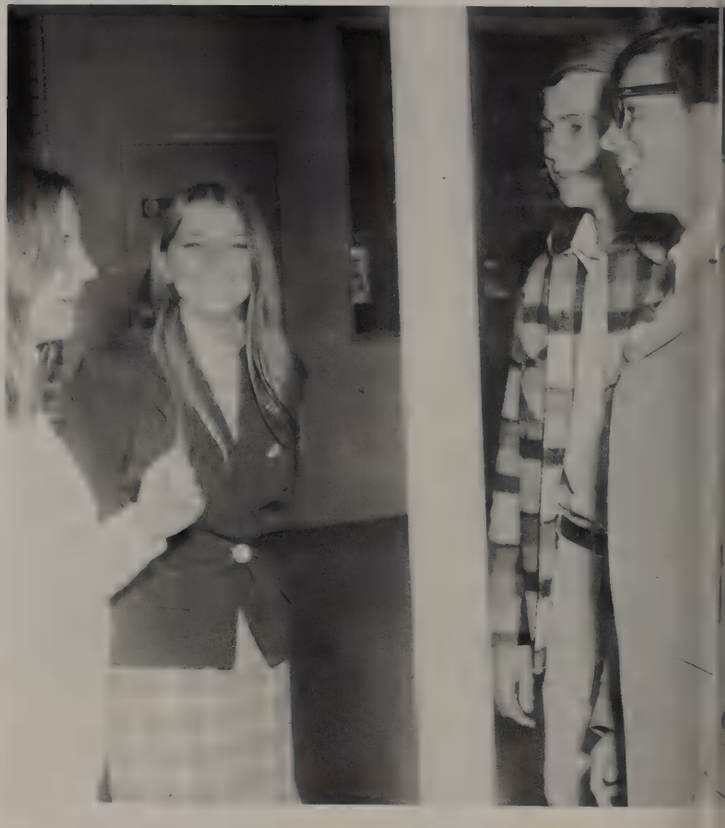

Class of 72 is eager to start moving. Sophomores are the largest class in the school this year. Every year a new group of inexperienced Sophomores come to Pompano and start their ascent to the highly esteemed roles of Senior students. This year's Sophomores show promise in their class unity and school spirit.

Between classes is quite a hustle for Sophomore Stacey Jenkins.

Newly elected Sophomore class officers: Secretary, Ruth Madden; Treasurer, Robin Monard; President, John Krix; and Vice-President, Tim Bailey get into the swing of things by going over the future projects planned for the Class of '72.

Sophomore lunch hour relieves tension of class routine.

Community merchants support publications. Advertising is the framework of all enterprise. Without the public awareness of goods and services, there would be no market for them. The BEANPICKER staff thanks the businessmen and the patrons, for without their assistance this publication would not have been possible.

Ads: Sandy Buckmaster and Cookie Hardy.

of Life. . . . Every student sooner or later asks himself, "Isn't it time I stopped preparing and started doing? Shouldn't I get on with the business of life?

But experience shows that the business of life is precisely the business of learning. To be sure, what is learned must be applied. But the more we learn, the more we have to offer ourselves, our families, our society.

It is sometimes too early to start doing, but it is never too late to continue learning.

Add to your Education every day . . .

Through the world of NEWSPAPERS

On the mid-Gold Coast, there are two important reading habits to complement your education—your morning Sun-Sentinel and evening Fort Lauderdale News—each with its own distinctive style and individual editorial policy, staff, and features to provide you with the total information picture—and often from varying viewpoints! Not only will you enjoy joining the newspaper set but you'll find it your best bet to keep up with what is going on right now, today, locally and throughout the world. Your newspaper offers "courses" in current events, sports, politics, world and civic affairs, business, entertainment and a host of features you'll consider required reading. Classes are in session daily—in your Sun-Sentinel and in your Fort Lauderdale News!

Poor Rick. He's traded one bag for another . . . and he's losing out.

You see, further education is more than just the key to a better job, and a successful future. You'll discover a whole new world of people, ideas, and living.

And if that's your bag, further education is where it begins.

A NOTE OF thanks

TO KENNEDY & COHEN CUSTOMERS

You've made us the largest independent TV and appliance dealer in Florida. We think we know why you shopped and bought at Kennedy and Cohen. First, you recognized the quality of our brand name merchandise: General Electric, R.C.A., Sylvania, Whirlpool and Zenith.

Then, you found out we are never undersold. We give you a 30-day written price guarantee, and we refund the difference if you find a lower price elsewhere! And you saw us actually roll out a red carpet when we delivered your purchase, to keep your home clean of footprints and packing materials. You know that we stand back of what we sell with our award winning service department. Every man is a factory-trained and authorized repairman.

We even called you, to make certain that you were well satisfied. We strive for 100% customer satisfaction. We expect to see you again, soon, when you need your next appliance and television.

Sincerely,
Ed McCluskey and Vin Malone

The yearbook staff would like to take this opportunity to extend our thanks to all who have helped make this book possible: the faculty and administration, Vincent Price Studios, Dave Chotiner, Mr. Buschke, and our sponsor Miss Wray. For many, June 12 will mark the last day of schooling; however, the learning process never ends. The doors of life are just opening and the future of this world depends upon the actions of today's younger generation. No man is an island and no one can change the course of time or the decisions of destiny on his own. Only tomorrow can show if this generation's accomplishments were as fine as their intentions, but even today it is evident that they are indeed . . . . . the unsilent generation.
